Median tuition, books and fees paid is the median amount paid to Chamberlain by students who graduated from this program in the 2020-2021 academic year. This amount is different than the total program costs and may be different for each student because students may transfer credits from other colleges, repeat courses that are not passed the first time or choose this program after first choosing other programs at Chamberlain.

Median total debt is the median total debt (federal, private and institutional loans) of students who completed this program in the 2020-2021 academic year.

The median earnings two years after graduation is calculated or compiled and reported by the U.S. Department of Education as part of the College Scorecard available at: <https://collegescorecard.ed.gov>. Completion rate for all new full-time Chamberlain students is defined similarly to the "first-time, full-time" completion rate above, except it includes those who previously attended another institution. Chamberlain calculates this measure based on Chamberlain data for the program.

The loan default rate for the program is calculated by the institution and is based on the program of study for which the student was last enrolled before entering repayment. The default rate measures the percentage of students entering repayment in the year ending 9/30/2019 who defaulted on their loans within three (3) years.
